

Guía de lectura del documento

Para facilitar la compraventa de sus Certificados de Depósito para Acciones (CDA), Triodos Bank ha sido históricamente contraparte en las transacciones en las que las personas titulares querían comprar o vender CDA. Para facilitar esta compra temporal de su propio instrumento de capital Tier 1, Triodos Bank podía hacer uso de un llamado "colchón de compra".

El uso de este "colchón de compra" se reporta a finales de cada año en las cuentas anuales de Triodos Bank N.V.

En 2020, los patrones de comercialización de CDA se alteraron debido a la incertidumbre económica resultante de la pandemia de la COVID-19 y la compraventa de CDA se suspendió el 18 de marzo de 2020.

En octubre de 2020 el mercado se reabrió bajo la asunción de que las circunstancias habían mejorado suficientemente como para que se restableciera el equilibrio de los patrones de compra y venta de los CDA de Triodos Bank.

Una vez reabierto la compraventa, se decidió publicar semanalmente el uso del "colchón de compra", para permitir que los/as inversores/as se informasen sobre el desarrollo de los patrones de compraventa, dado que los eventos previos del año habían ocasionado un impacto sin precedentes en el sistema de comercialización que, por otra parte, había funcionado bien durante 40 años.

Para favorecer el mejor entendimiento posible de los grupos de interés acerca del uso histórico del "colchón", este documento ofrece una panorámica de los patrones semanales desde 2007 (año anterior a la crisis económica global).

Se han utilizado las transacciones reales para informar sobre el uso del "colchón" de compra. En la práctica, eso significa que el "colchón" nunca es cero. Los CDA pueden haber sido comprados a un precio diferente al que fueron vendidos más tarde debido a diferencias temporales. Y significa también que puede haber una cantidad positiva o negativa en un año incluso si no hay superávit de CDA. La cantidad mostrada representa beneficio o pérdida en las transacciones.

Para los años comprendidos entre 2007 y 2017 el colchón máximo de compra de CDA fue del 2 % del capital Tier1. Como el capital Tier1 se incrementó, la cantidad absoluta también aumentó. Para los años 2007 – 2009 el cálculo del colchón máximo de compra de CDA se hizo mensualmente.

A partir de 2017 el porcentaje máximo para comprar CDA fue una cantidad fija, debido a un cambio en la regulación. Ese importe se fijó con la aprobación del DNB y la Junta General de Accionistas de Triodos Bank.
